"Neptune's Daughter" Holds Over.

At almost the last moment on Saturday, the management of the Bijou Theatre completed arrangements for holding over for the first three days of this week the famous motion picture, "Neptune's Daughter," which stars Annette Kellermann, and which created a new attendance record for that theatre last week.

For several days it has been apparent that one week was not long enough period within which to enable a rich heiress. This is one of the few features that ran at the Vitagraph Theatre of New York for as long as six weeks. The other feature for the first half of the week is another comedy film from the Vitagraph studios, called "Joyce, Luck and Gasoline," a title largely written around an incident.

Two musical acts of good reputation will complete the bill for the first part of the week, while for the last half the feature will be "Checkers," in which the noted light comedian, Thomas W. Ross, is starred. This is a three-part film, which has attracted favorable comment everywhere it has been exhibited.

all who wanted to see the picture to gain admission to the theatre, and negotiations were being held for a lengthening of the engagement. There were, however, other engagements to be entered and still others to be canceled before an agreement could be made, and some difficulties were encountered.

Finally, the owners of the picture and the managers of several theatres for which the photoplay had been booked managed to reach a solution, with the result that "Neptune's Daughter" will be exhibited at the Bijou on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday—at 2 o'clock in the afternoon and at 7 and 9 o'clock in the evening. The engagement had been made in response to a general popular demand, as has been evidenced by the crowds that have moved into the theatre ever since last Monday afternoon when the picture was shown for the first time in Richmond. These crowds steadily increased in number until, when the last performance came to an end last night, more than 500 persons had attended this remarkable picture.

It is now continuing to increase in such overwhelming numbers that the suspended performances of the management contemplate offering a second performance on Saturday.

Besides this half-week engagement at the Bijou, the other entertainment in the regular theatres along Vaudeville Street consists of the long-established vaudeville and picture policy of the Colonial and the recently inaugurated Vaudeville and picture plan offered at the Empire.

Concerning the offerings at those two theatres their managers say:

COLONIAL THEATRE. Forecast for the Week.

In "The Girl in the Moon," which will be the feature of the Colonial's bill for the first half of the week, the management has secured one of the most attractive novelties to be seen in vaudeville. Set out in the crescent of a new moon, both young women passers-by over the audience quite close enough to be touched by those the orchestra and all the while singing in good voice songs of pleasing melody. The success with which this novelty met in the higher priced theatres during the season would indicate greater success for it at the Colonial, where novelties are always well received.

The Kleitz Brothers, who are two long-esteemed veterans among the German comedians, will add a great deal of fun to the bill with their comedy sketches.

West and Reed, the singing and talking act, will doubtless win favor. Miss Boyd as pretty, and makes an excellent feeder for the comedy of her male partner.

Laemmle will present a unique Chinese dancer, who has been especially trained while the dancing number of the vaudeville bill will be performed by Laemmle in an eccentric comedy sketch.

Thursday there will be a complete change in the bill, while Jessie Lasky's "Elmwood" with Bertram and Hartt, will be the feature act. Other acts for the last half of the week will be Topoff and Gandy, Laddie, in "The Dream Dance," Ed. Edwards' Three Bagged Troublemakers, Betty Blue and Cleadow, and George Martin.

The Headlining News Pictures will be of more than common interest throughout the week.

There are three performances a day, the matines beginning at 3 o'clock, and the evening performances at 7 and 9 o'clock.

Empire's Offering.

For the first half of the week, M. L. Hoffmeyer of the Empire Theatre, has booked the well-known comedy film, "Goodness Gracious," a movie as they should be! A scathing satire on moving pictures with here and there a plot and counterplot and Richmond and Rappahannock Rail- way Company, and Thomas P. Bryan, of Williamsburg, for the company. In the party were Commissioners Beck, McCarthy and Follans of the Administrative Board; President W. H. Adams of the Board of Aldermen; City Clerk Ben T. August and J. H. Perdue; Harry E. Atkinson, Morgan B. Mills, John R. Grimes, Joseph B. Welsh, Lawrence Paul, John B. Bliley, C. C. Jones and W. D. Butler, of the City Council; Sergeant-at-Arms Buskell, private citizens and newspaper men. All were in trim and all appeared pleased with the progress made by the new railway company and particularly with the character of the territory which the road traverses.

Respectfully,
AUGUST HETZER,
M. GANZERT.

WILL RETURN FLAG

Reb of Confederate Army in Hands of Michigan Woman.

A communication which won the interest of Governor Stuart when the executive looked over the morning mail yesterday was written on mourning paper and signed by a woman. It was dated at a town in Michigan. The woman who signed it has in her possession a Confederate flag captured during the War between the States by the Union forces. It has in the intervening years passed through the hands of several families in Michigan, and is in a good state of preservation. She desires to present the relic to the state that tried men's souls to the state of Virginia. To me falls the great pleasure of returning the flag, if you desire the her letter.

Governor Stuart said he would reply immediately to the letter, assuring the writer that the gift will be appreciated and the flag given a suitable place among the relics of the Confederacy.
